

Newsletter No. 57 (January 2011)

Offsite access to electronic resources through the catalogue:
*News from the National Library of Australia

Di Pin Ouyang 歐陽迪頻

Chinese Unit, National Library of Australia

Good news! Offsite access to selected electronic titles has been greatly improved! Library's registered readers now can access the English and Chinese electronic resources from the Library's catalogue (catalogue.nla.gov.au/), regardless of whether they are in the building or offsite.

The National Library of Australia has subscribed to a number of Chinese online resources to complement our print collections. Now readers can access our online resources either via the eResources portal <http://www.nla.gov.au/app/eresources/> or through the relevant catalogue record. An icon - a gold key symbol - has been added to the end of the URL link found in the full catalogue record to indicate if offsite access is available. For example below:

Zhongguo nong shi [electronic resource] / [Zhongguo nong ye li shi xue hui chou wei hui
 Zhongguo nong ke yuan, Nanjing nong xue yuan, Zhongguo nong ye yi chan yan jiu shi
 中国农史

Bib ID	4985394
Format	 Journal ,  Online
Uniform Title	Zhongguo nong shi (Online)
Online Access	Full text available from China Academic Journals -...
Access Conditions	Available to National Library Registered Users.
Description	Nanjing Shi : Nong ye chu ban she, [1982- 南京市 : 农业出版社, [1982-
ISSN	1000-4459

Click on the gold key symbol  near the URL link in the full record display, you will be presented with a login screen below:

Newsletter No. 57 (January 2011)

Login

User ID:

Family name:

No user ID? Register.

After entering your user ID and name, you will pass directly to the title.

To access a selected range of licensed electronic resources from offsite, you must be a registered reader. To register simply click on Get a Library Card from www.nla.gov.au/getalibrarycard.

Remark: A list of eResources subscribed by the National Library of Australia on Asian Studies can be obtained from the following link: <http://www.nla.gov.au/app/eresources/browse/183>.